FOURTH OF JULY ADDRESS OF GOVERNOR PINKHAM

Mr. Chairman, Officers and Men of the National Guard of Hawaii and Citizens and Friends:

One hundred and forty years ago this day there gathered, in impressive assemblage, in the city of Philadelphia, fifty-six distinguished men, representatives of the thirteen colonies of America, charged with the weightiest responsibilities, and prepared to announce certain fundamental principles of rights and government that were to mark a profound advance in the welfare of mankind, and they then and there signed a Declaration of Rights and Independence that brought forth the United States of America.

As a premise these founders of the Republic declared:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

"That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

"When a long train of abuses and usurpations evince a design to reduce them under absolute despotism; it is their right, it is their duty to throw off such government and provide new guards for their security.

"To prove this let facts be submitted to a candid world."

The Declaration specified as follows:

Six charges of abolishing, refusing passage and refusing assent to laws.

Eight charges of interference with legislative bodies, elections, courts, trials by jury and deportation for trial.

Four charges of unjust military imposition in times of peace.

Five charges of inciting and prosecuting war.

Three charges as to foreign jurisdiction, immigration and taxation.

These twenty-six charges were, at the moment of the signing of the Declaration, reduced to the responsibility and the ability of the new nation to properly legislate for themselves and execute their own laws within their own borders, to expel foes and defend themselves and their rights on the land and on the seas.

In the Declaration there was still one remaining charge, to wit: "For cutting off our trade with all parts of the world."

The curtailing of the trade of the United States of America by means other than normal competition has been a live issue for the greater part of the one hundred and forty years of our national existence, and is today a most vital issue.

It brought about war thirty-six years after the assertion of independence.

The enterprise of the ship builders, owners, mariners and traders of the United States had, in the year eighteen hundred and sixty, placed our merchant marine in the highest and commanding rank of the world.

So aggressive and eager were

ACCIDENTAL SHOT KILLS SCHOOL BOY

The 14 year-old son of Mon Chong, just home from school in Honolulu, was accidentally shot in Hanapepe about 7 o'clock Saturday night and died three hours later in the Makaweli hospital.

The youngster went over to the store of Awa and joined a couple of sons of the proprietor in a back room of the establishment. While there he noticed a 22 calibre Colt's automatic revolver under a pillow of the bed and started to pick it up. One of the other boys, anticipating his purpose, took the weapon and, as he thought, emptied it of cartridges. As is so often the case, however, one remained; and a few moments later that cartridge was discharged, the bullet entering the abdomen of the little fellow.

The boy was rushed to the hospital at Makaweli where he was given immediate attention by Dr. Dunn. Dr. Waterhouse was also summoned from Koloa and everything possible was done to save life, but without avail.

Deputy Sheriff Crowell, of Waimea, made a thorough investigation and became convinced that the case was one of accident.

PREPARING FOR CIVIC CONCLAVE

Hilo, July 8—Director William McKay and his board which has charge of the arrangements for the Fifth Civic Convention which is to be held in Hilo on September 21-25 are working hard on the selecting of sub-committees which will have charge of the many details of the big gathering. These committees should all be appointed by next week and then some really hard work will be put in.

The throwing of the Fourth of July celebration into the past clears the way for even larger doings of the convention and county fair. The latter event is to be staged in Hilo on September 22-23 and it promises to even excel the wonderful fair of two years ago.

The various civic organizations in the islands have again been written to and they have been asked to suggest any feature that they think would enliven the proceedings of the convention. Subjects for discussion, particularly those relating to future legislation for the territory and also relating to county affairs have been asked for and it is hoped that some valuable answers will be received from the civic bodies.

The county fair directors, headed by Dr. H. B. Elliot, are also going ahead well with their plans and now that the full lists of exhibits asked for have been distributed throughout the island it is found that even greater interest than before, if possible, has been aroused. The second fair to be held in Hilo promises to be the best proposition of the kind ever staged in Hawaii.

Kuhio Wharf, where the fair is to be held, is an ideal place for such an event. The enormous deck space and the facilities for accommodating a huge crowd of visitors appeal to everybody. The July Fourth crowd of five thousand people were easily fitted into the big shed and many favorable comments were heard concerning the decision of the county fair people to hold their annual exhibition on the wharf. Everything points to a great time next September.

PRISONERS ENTER PLEAS OF GUILTY

Manuel Omiero, charged with the murder of one Lorenzo Hondo in one of the Makaweli camps on June 9th, was arraigned in Judge Dickey's court last Wednesday and entered a plea of guilty of murder in the second degree, the government consenting to withdraw the charge of first degree murder. The defendant was sentenced by the court to imprisonment at hard labor for not less than twenty nor more than fifty years.

IMPRISONMENT FOR MAYHEM.

Lorenzo Juan, also from the Makaweli side of the island, entered a plea of guilty to the charge of mayhem. The court gave him not less than three nor more than ten years. In this assault Juan attacked a companion with a huge knife and practically cut off one of his hands.

SOME MINOR CASES

Nicomedes Gorospe pleaded guilty to a charge of assault with a weapon and was given not less than six months nor more than five years in which to repent.

Edward Garatia, charged with assault upon a police officer, entered a plea of guilty. Sentence was suspended for one year.

A BIG LITTLE CASE

The ejectment case of W. F. Sanborn vs. Hannah K. Paikulu started last week and will probably be on another week. Although really involving comparatively little the case has drawn in many members of one of the big land hui of the Hanalei side as witnesses.

Kauai's Chorus Choir

The Kauai Chorus Choir, at the song contest in Hilo, won much favorable comment on all sides, and not even the winning choir of Molokai received a greater ovation of applause. In addition to a surprising musical efficiency, the youth and freshness of the personnel, and the shy grace of their manner won the audience. Influenced by these things, many in the audience would have given them the first place, but the judges were inexorable on the basis of musical proficiency, strictly, and on that the long and faithful training of Molokai gave them an insuperable advantage. It is very creditable, however, to Kauai, that they made so high a record competing against such veterans as that of Molokai. It now looks as though it would be next to impossible to take away the laurels from these champions, at least in this generation.

Porto Rican Slashed

In a drunken row at Camp 2, Makaweli, on Sunday Manuel Rosalia is alleged to have badly cut in the face another Porto Rican who is now in the hospital at Makaweli. Rosalia is in jail at Waimea awaiting the fate of his victim.

Judges Recommissioned

Judge C. B. Hofgaard has been reappointed first district magistrate of Waimea and Judge Wm. Schimmelfennig second district magistrate of Koloa.

Senator Chas. A. Rice left in the Kinau Saturday afternoon for Honolulu to attend the Republican convention, expecting to return tomorrow morning. He took most of the proxies of this island.

J. Lor Wallach, the man who created a sensation here some years ago with an alleged cure for leprosy, is to return to the Islands. He will ask the Legislature to give him full charge of Molokai.

British Make Big Gains

Loudon—A tremendous gain by the British has been made in France. Thousands of Germans and large quantities of material have been captured while the Allies drive a great salient into lines of the Teutons in the west.

The Russians are sweeping von Linsingen and von Bothmer lines back. Fierce fighting is seen in all quarters. Infantry charges of Allies are terrific.

Britain Again Seeks Trouble

Washington—Information has reached here that Great Britain has placed seventy or eighty business firms and individuals in the United States on a kind of "black list" as a punishment for trading with enemy countries. Washington will await details before acting. The State department is frankly puzzled by the news, but believes diplomatic exchanges will follow the move.

Gulf Stream Moving Fish

New York—It has been discovered that the Gulf Stream has carried tropical fish into the north, the phenomena being reported by sailing masters. Some think that that may account for the recent appearance of sharks at bathing resorts along the coast.

Villa Escapes North

Cnihuahua—Villa and his band of bandits have escaped the net cast for them by Carranza forces and are now headed in the direction of the American border. Mexican generals admit the failure of their plans to capture the outlaw.

PRETTY WEDDING AT THE HIGHLANDS

Seldom has Kauai seen a prettier wedding than that of Harry J. Eby to Eva M. W. Hastie on the evening of July 12, at the Hastie home, Elele.

The service, performed by Rev. J. M. Lydgate, was simple and impressive, while the bridal couple won all hearts by the unassuming beauty of the bride and the frank manliness of the groom. The arrangement of the bridal veil, which was skilfully disposed to show the beauty of the brides' hair, and at the same time form a sort of queenly crown at the back of the head, with a band or fillet across the forehead, called out the favorable comment of all connoisseurs.

Delicious refreshments were served immediately after the ceremony, in the course of which Mr. Lydgate proposed a toast to the bride and the wedded couple in a facetious vein of humor and banter that pleased every one.

The bridal bouquet, when thrown, fell to the eager hands of Miss Strain, and she promises not to be recreant to her responsibility as "next."

The departing couple were showered with a storm of confetti as they broke through the merry crowd and escaped into the night.

The decorations were singularly artistic and effective, and the refreshments were such as the "Hastie girls" are well known to be always good for. There were some 45 guests, all personal friends of the family.

Manager H. Rohrig, of Lihue Store, was a passenger for Honolulu by the Maui Friday night. He will return tomorrow.

GARDEN PARTY FOR MRS. A. ISENBERG

A very successful and original garden party was given by Mrs. William Hyde Rice in honor of Mrs. Virginia Isenberg. Under the spreading branches of the stately monkey pod tree a very artistic rustic tea house had been built, thatched with trailing vines and pendant flowers, within which a great table, laden with delicious refreshments in large variety, served as a base of supplies from which young maidens, daintily attired, dispensed good things to the guests dispersed in groups about the lawn. A perfect afternoon, the beautiful surroundings, and the fine outlook on the Haupu mountains, added to the charm of the occasion, and made it altogether a red letter afternoon in the social events of Lihue.

There were some 60 guests invited, and no one missed it who could possibly come. The affair, both in plan and execution, to the last finished detail, was a fresh testimonial to the well known hospitality and efficiency of the hostess.

It Is Manager Cox

Frank Cox, for several years connected with the office of Hofgaard & Company, is the new manager of the Waimea hotel. He assumed his new duties yesterday, although Mr. Oliver will remain until August 15, or until Mr. Cox gets the business well in hand.

Mr. Cox is succeeded in the office of Hofgaard & Co. by the young son of Judge Hofgaard, who returned a few days ago from college.
